

Charlie Kingsbury

In Charlie's life he has been fortunate to be surrounded by family, mentors, and friends that value relationships. Through his rodeo career he was a successful calf roper winning two circuit championships and being the runner up to the Dodge National Circuit Finals Calf Roping Championship. "I loved to compete in rodeo, but looking back I am most thankful for my relationships through rodeo." His relationship with THE FATHER and others are his greatest inheritance. Charlie loves sharing this inheritance of relationship with the people The Father brings into his life. Charlie and his family spent the last three years at Trinity Fellowship in Sayre, OK experiencing "God as Father". He currently is back on the family ranch with his wife Lorissa and his four children.
